Total, Adani may sign green energy deal

Partnership will be first since Hindenburg report

TOTALENERGIES SE IS in talks to invest in renewable energy projects developed by Adani Green Energy, people familiar with the matter said, potentially marking the first public deal between the French oil giant and Gautam Adani since the Hindenburg report.

Total is looking to buy stakes in some of Adani Green's projects as part of its drive to expand its portfolio of clean energy projects, said the people, who asked not to be identified as the discussions are private. The French group could invest about $700 million in total into the projects, one of the people said.

Shares of Adani Green rose as much as 2.9% on Friday, touching the highest level in more than a week.

Deliberations are ongoing and there's no certainty for a transaction, the people said. Representatives for Adani and Total declined to comment.

The deal would increase Total's presence in the country's fast-growing energy market, while giving Adani Green more means to develop new renewable energy projects. It would also see Total deepen its ties with Adani Green, which it's already the second-largest shareholder of with a 19.75% stake, according to data compiled by Bloomberg.

Total has frequently partnered with Adani as the French giant looks to boost its clean-

GREEN BOOST

- Total is looking to buy stakes in some of Adani Green's projects as part of its drive to expand portfolio
- Talks are ongoing and there's no certainty for a transaction, source said
- The deal would increase Total's presence in India's energy market, while giving Adani Green more means to develop new projects

energy output, in an effort to mollify shareholders demanding greater efforts to fight climate change. That aspiration dovetails with India's ambitions to become a net-zero carbon nation by 2070 and curb its reliance on oil and coal.

In 2019, Total spent $600 million to buy a 37.4% stake in Adani Gas, now called Adani Total Gas. In 2021, it bought a 20% stake in Adani Green as well as a 50% interest in some of Adani Green's solar farms in operation in a $2.5-billion deal that was among the largest foreign investments in India.

The bet on Adani Green worked well for Total as its value soared to $10 billion in 2022 when CEO Patrick Pouyanné described the stake as "a source of potential cash". The duo were looking to partner up and fund billions of dollars worth of green hydrogen development in India.

However, when Hindenburg Research accused the Adani Group of "brazen" market manipulation and accounting fraud earlier this year, Total put a plan to develop about $5 billion of green hydrogen projects with Adani Enterprises on hold.

The Adani Group strongly denied the allegations by the short-seller.

Adani's stocks and bonds have recouped some losses since the short-seller report, particularly after the group received investment from GQG Partners, and an interim report from a Supreme Court-appointed panel in May said it found no evidence of stock-price manipulation.

Adani Enterprises in the quarter through March reported that its profit doubled to ₹722 crore ($87 million). Adani Green said in July that it plans to raise ₹12,300 crore to bankroll expansion through selling shares to institutional investors. — BLOOMBERG

Soon, chat-led homepage on Flipkart

SAMEER RANJAN BAKSHI
Bengaluru, September 15

FLIPKART IS LEVERAGING generative artificial intelligence and creating a multi homepage, where buyers can right swipe into a very clean chat-led home page, said Jeyandran Venugopal, chief product and technology officer of Flipkart.

Venugopal, in an event, Converge @ Walmart, said, they are using Gen AI in a large way. "In customer experience area, we are summarising the customer experience chat between the users and agents, so that the context is passed to someone else very quickly." Headed, "And we are running sentimental analyses on the summarised versions of the chats. Infosys signs $1.5-bn AI contract

Total contract value of mega deals crosses $5 bn in Q2

SAMEER RANJAN BAKSHI
Bengaluru, September 15

INFOSYS SIGNED A memorandum of understanding with a global company to provide modernisation and other technological services, including artificial intelligence (AI)-based solutions, with an estimated TCv (total contract value) of $1.5 billion over a period of 15 years. This takes the total large deals' TCv, which Infosys won till now, to more than $5 billion.

The IT major didn't disclose the name of the client. It will provide enhanced digital experiences, along with modernisation and business operations services, leveraging Infosys platforms and AI solutions, said the company in a filing with BSE. "This is subject to parties entering into a master agree-

WHAT'S THE DEAL

- Infosys will provide enhanced digital experiences, leveraging its platforms and AI solutions
- This is the fourth big AI-centric deal that the IT major bagged this quarter
- Jefferies said that Infosys reiterated its margin expansion program, and expects it to yield results over the next 6-8 quarters

ment", added the company.

This is the fourth big AI-centric deal that the IT major bagged this quarter. In July, Infosys entered into a framework agreement with one of its existing strategic clients to provide AI and automation-led development, whose TCv was estimated at $2 billion spread over 5 years.

Last month, the company again signed a deal worth

€1.5bn over the initial 5-year term with multinational telecommunication firm Liberty Global. This week, it signed a strategic multi-year partnership deal with Nordic based STARK group, Europe's largest retailer and distributor of building materials, to power its digital transformation journey.

Jefferies in a recent note said that Infosys reiterated its margin expansion program, and expects it to yield results over the next 6-8 quarters. "However, a higher proportion of large deals, which have lower margins due to high competitive intensity and slower growth impacting operating leverage and ability to optimise pyramids further, should limit margin expansion in FY24, in our view."

Analysts at Jefferies further added that for the first time Infosys has signed three mega deals in the first half of a year. Most benefit will come toward end of FY24 and bulk of it will be in FY25.

"Clients are looking at more cost takeout, modernisation without very high upfront cost, and composition of cost take out deals in deal wins and pipeline is higher at present. Most large deals are lower margins than the average, due to involvement of deal consultants and RFP process. Margins are made through surround work on large deals," the note said.

Air India launches tools to tackle pilot fatigue

SWARAJ BAGGONKAR
Mumbai, September 15

MARKING THE CONCLUSION of the first year of Air India's transformation plan called Vihaan.AI, chief executive Campbell Wilson outlined a few immediate future plans for the former flag carrier alongside measures to combat the growing issue of pilot fatigue.

In an email to employees, Wilson said, "September 15, marks Vihaan.AI's first anniversary. While the hard work of writing this historic airline's next chapter began well before that, it was the launch of Air India's ambitious transformation plan that really accelerated our progress."

Under Vihaan.AI, the airline will focus on expanding its network and fleet, revamp customer proposition, improve reliability and on-time performance and become a leader in technology and innovation, the company said.

Air India's day operations team has introduced several new initiatives in tandem that seek to increase the stability of printed rosters and minimise disruptions, utilise standby blocks optimally, and set up efficient communications channels.

The carrier also set to introduce two new digital tools - the Pilot Sector Report (PSR) app and DocuNet. These tools will aim at "revolutionising its flight operations and pilot satisfaction by improving safety, efficiency, and compliance."

"The PSR app streamlines post-flight reporting, while DocuNet simplifies document distribution, ensuring up-to-date and synchronised information. Both tools are user-friendly and integrate seamlessly with our existing systems," Wilson added.

Ashok Leyland to invest ₹1k cr in UP

SAJAN C KUMAR
Chennai, September 15

HINDUJA GROUP FLAGSHIP Ashok Leyland (ALL) will invest ₹1,000 crore to set up an integrated bus plant focused on green mobility in Uttar Pradesh. The Chennai-based commercial vehicle major on Friday inked a memorandum of understanding (MoU) with the Uttar Pradesh government to come up with the plant, which will be the first ALL plant in the state.

ALL will utilise the plant to produce electric buses, with the flexibility to also assemble other vehicles powered by currently available fuels as well as emerging alternative fuels. When the plant starts operations, the facility will initially have the capacity to produce 2,500 buses a year.

The company intends to gradually expand this capacity to accommodate up to 5,000 vehicles per year over the next decade as the demand for electric and other types of buses is expected to grow substantially over the next few years. Once operational, this will be the seventh vehicle plant of ALL in the country.

Under the MoU, the state government and ALL will engage in discussions to develop more attractive policies aimed at accelerating the adoption of electric and green fuel trucks and buses.

FRENCH GIANT COULD INVEST $700 MN

Total, Adani may sign green energy deal

Partnership will be first since Hindenburg report

BAIJU KALESH, FRANCOIS DE BEAUPUY & PR SANJAI
September 15

TOTALENERGIES SE IS in talks to invest in renewable energy projects developed by Adani Green Energy, people familiar with the matter said, potentially marking the first public deal between the French oil giant and Gautam Adani since the Hindenburg report.

Total is looking to buy stakes in some of Adani Green's projects as part of its drive to expand its portfolio of clean energy projects, said the people, who asked not to be identified as the discussions are private. The French group could invest about $700 million in total into the projects, one of the people said.

Shares of Adani Green rose as much as 2.9% on Friday, touching the highest level in more than a week.

Deliberations are ongoing and there's no certainty for a transaction, the people said. Representatives for Adani and Total declined to comment.

The deal would increase Total's presence in the country's fast-growing energy market, while giving Adani Green more means to develop new renewable energy projects. It would also see Total deepen its ties with Adani Green, which it's already the second-largest shareholder of with a 19.75% stake, according to data compiled by Bloomberg.

Total has frequently partnered with Adani as the French giant looks to boost its clean-

GREEN BOOST

- Total is looking to buy stakes in some of Adani Green's projects as part of its drive to expand portfolio
- Talks are ongoing and there's no certainty for a transaction, source said
- The deal would increase Total's presence in India's energy market, while giving Adani Green more means to develop new projects

energy output, in an effort to mollify shareholders demanding greater efforts to fight climate change. That aspiration dovetails with India's ambitions to become a net-zero carbon nation by 2070 and curb its reliance on oil and coal.

In 2019, Total spent $600 million to buy a 37.4% stake in Adani Gas, now called Adani Total Gas. In 2021, it bought a 20% stake in Adani Green as well as a 50% interest in some of Adani Green's solar farms in operation in a $2.5-billion deal that was among the largest foreign investments in India.

The bet on Adani Green worked well for Total as its value soared to $10 billion in 2022 when CEO Patrick Pouyanné described the stake as "a source of potential cash". The duo were looking to partner up and fund billions of dollars worth of green hydrogen development in India.

However, when Hindenburg Research accused the Adani Group of "brazen" market manipulation and accounting fraud earlier this year, Total put a plan to develop about $5 billion of green hydrogen projects with Adani Enterprises on hold.

The Adani Group strongly denied the allegations by the short-seller.

Adani's stocks and bonds have recouped some losses since the short-seller report, particularly after the group received investment from GQG Partners, and an interim report from a Supreme Court-appointed panel in May said it found no evidence of stock-price manipulation.

Adani Enterprises in the quarter through March reported that its profit doubled to ₹722 crore ($87 million). Adani Green said in July that it plans to raise ₹12,300 crore to bankroll expansion through selling shares to institutional investors. — BLOOMBERG

Soon, chat-led homepage on Flipkart

SAMEER RANJAN BAKSHI
Bengaluru, September 15

FLIPKART IS LEVERAGING generative artificial intelligence and creating a multi homepage, where buyers can right swipe into a very clean chat-led home page, said Jeyandran Venugopal, chief product and technology officer of Flipkart.

Venugopal, in an event, Converge @ Walmart, said, they are using Gen AI in a large way. "In customer experience area, we are summarising the customer experience chat between the users and agents, so that the context is passed to someone else very quickly." Headed, "And we are running sentimental analyses on the summarised versions of the chats. If the model decides that a user at the end of the conversation is not very satisfied, then it can proactively notify an L2 person to review it and take proactive measures with the customers."

Infosys signs $1.5-bn AI contract

Total contract value of mega deals crosses $5 bn in Q2

SAMEER RANJAN BAKSHI
Bengaluru, September 15

INFOSYS SIGNED A memorandum of understanding with a global company to provide modernisation and other technological services, including artificial intelligence (AI)-based solutions, with an estimated TCv (total contract value) of $1.5 billion over a period of 15 years. This takes the total large deals' TCv, which Infosys won till now, to more than $5 billion.

The IT major didn't disclose the name of the client. It will provide enhanced digital experiences, along with modernisation and business operations services, leveraging Infosys platforms and AI solutions, said the company in a filing with BSE. "This is subject to parties entering into a master agree-

WHAT'S THE DEAL

- Infosys will provide enhanced digital experiences, leveraging its platforms and AI solutions
- This is the fourth big AI-centric deal that the IT major bagged this quarter
- Jefferies said that Infosys reiterated its margin expansion program, and expects it to yield results over the next 6-8 quarters

ment", added the company.

This is the fourth big AI-centric deal that the IT major bagged this quarter. In July, Infosys entered into a framework agreement with one of its existing strategic clients to provide AI and automation-led development, whose TCv was estimated at $2 billion spread over 5 years.

Last month, the company again signed a deal worth

€1.5bn over the initial 5-year term with multinational telecommunication firm Liberty Global. This week, it signed a strategic multi-year partnership deal with Nordic based STARK group, Europe's largest retailer and distributor of building materials, to power its digital transformation journey.

Jefferies in a recent note said that Infosys reiterated its

margin expansion program, and expects it to yield results over the next 6-8 quarters. "However, a higher proportion of large deals, which have lower margins due to high competitive intensity and slower growth impacting operating leverage and ability to optimise pyramids further, should limit margin expansion in FY24, in our view."

Analysts at Jefferies further added that for the first time Infosys has signed three mega deals in the first half of a year. Most benefit will come toward end of FY24 and bulk of it will be in FY25.

"Clients are looking at more cost takeout, modernisation without very high upfront cost, and composition of cost take out deals in deal wins and pipeline is higher at present. Most large deals are lower margins than the average, due to involvement of deal consultants and RFP process. Margins are made through surround work on large deals," the note said.

Air India launches tools to tackle pilot fatigue

SWARAJ BAGGONKAR
Mumbai, September 15

MARKING THE CONCLUSION of the first year of Air India's transformation plan called Vihaan.AI, chief executive Campbell Wilson outlined a few immediate future plans for the former flag carrier alongside measures to combat the growing issue of pilot fatigue.

In an email to employees, Wilson said, "September 15, marks Vihaan.AI's first anniversary. While the hard work of writing this historic airline's next chapter began well before that, it was the launch of Air India's ambitious transformation plan that really accelerated our progress."

Under Vihaan.AI, the airline will focus on expanding its network and fleet, revamp customer proposition, improve reliability and on-time performance and become a leader in technology and innovation, the company said.

Air India's day operations team has introduced several new initiatives in tandem that seek to increase the stability of printed rosters and minimise disruptions, utilise standby blocks optimally, and set up efficient communications channels.

The carrier also set to introduce two new digital tools - the Pilot Sector Report (PSR) app and DocuNet. These tools will aim at "revolutionising its flight operations and pilot satisfaction by improving safety, efficiency, and compliance."

"The PSR app streamlines post-flight reporting, while DocuNet simplifies document distribution, ensuring up-to-date and synchronised information. Both tools are user-friendly and integrate seamlessly with our existing systems," Wilson added.

Ashok Leyland to invest ₹1k cr in UP

SAJAN C KUMAR
Chennai, September 15

HINDUJA GROUP FLAGSHIP Ashok Leyland (ALL) will invest ₹1,000 crore to set up an integrated bus plant focused on green mobility in Uttar Pradesh. The Chennai-based commercial vehicle major on Friday inked a memorandum of understanding (MoU) with the Uttar Pradesh government to come up with the plant, which will be the first ALL plant in the state.

ALL will utilise the plant to produce electric buses, with the flexibility to also assemble other vehicles powered by currently available fuels as well as emerging alternative fuels. When the plant starts operations, the facility will initially have the capacity to produce 2,500 buses a year.

The company intends to gradually expand this capacity to accommodate up to 5,000 vehicles per year over the next decade as the demand for electric and other types of buses is expected to grow substantially over the next few years. Once operational, this will be the seventh vehicle plant of ALL in the country.

Under the MoU, the state government and ALL will engage in discussions to develop more attractive policies aimed at accelerating the adoption of electric and green fuel trucks and buses.
